FOUR CARS PLAY BUMP-TO-BUMPS SUNDAY MORNING

"It sounded like tenpins falling in a bowling alley," was the way State Policeman David K. James today described a four-car accident that occurred Sunday morning at 9 o'clock on the Hanover-York Springs Road, one-eighth of a mile from Cross Keys.

Patrolman James arrived at the Cross Keys intersection when cars had formed a line an eighth of a mile long on the Hanover Road.

James had started to direct traffic when three young people, all driving their parents' cars, piled up at the far end of the line of traffic.

"Bump-To-Bumps"
According to James, Miss Louise Anne Demarest, 20, 101 E. High St., New Oxford, driving a car owned by her father, Alexander Ross Demarest, halted at the end of the traffic line.

Carl L. Garvick Jr., 17, 557 Baer Ave., Hanover, driving his father's car, was following the Demarest car. Garvick tried to stop, but failed to do so in time and his vehicle struck the rear of the Demarest car, pushing it into the car in front of it.

George Raubenstine Jr., 20, Hanover R. 4, driving a car owned by his mother, Mrs. Geraldine S. Raubenstine, was following the Garvick car.

FOUR KILLED IN 4-CAR ACCIDENT

The sister-in-law of L. L. Dietrich, 220 Baltimore St., manager of the local Coffman-Fisher store, was among four persons fatally injured in a four-car accident on the Hutchison River Parkway, near Harrison, N. Y., about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The relative of the local man was Mrs. Lillian B. Dietrich, 34, Uniontown Rd., one mile from Westminster. The others to meet death were Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Schneider, Salisbury, Md., brother-in-law and sister of Mrs. Dietrich, with whom she was traveling. The remaining passenger in the Schneider car, Mrs. Dietrich's ten-year-old son, Drew, was taken to United Hospital at Port Chester, N. Y. His condition was described as not serious. The body of the fourth victim was not immediately identified.

A southbound car careened over the traffic divider and smashed into two northbound cars, police reported.

Color prints must measure 5 by 7 inches or larger but need not be mounted. Black and whites must be 8 by 10 or larger and must be mounted. Prints previously exhibited at the fair are not eligible for display this year, Mr. Tyson said. The prints will be judged in competition for cash prizes.

Maurice Stoops and Paul G. Pennington of Gettysburg are members of Mr. Tyson's committee in charge of the exhibit.

11,092 Visitors See Battlefield

More than 11,000 visitors, a new record for 1952 week ends, toured the Gettysburg National Military Park Saturday and Sunday, according to figures compiled by John Riddle, superintendent of the National Cemetery.

According to Mr. Riddle, 4,637 persons visited the battlefield and the National Cemetery in private automobiles on Saturday, and 111 in four buses for a total of 4,748. On Sunday there were 6,283 in cars and 61 in two buses, a total of 6,344. The total for the two days was 11,092.

FIREMEN WIN $150 CASH PRIZE AT DALLASTOWN

The Gettysburg Fire Department and the Blue and Gray Band, which teamed up in most of the firmen's parades this summer as one of the "winningest" combinations in the state, added $150 more to the joint prize money of the season on Saturday afternoon at Dallastown.

The fire company was awarded first prize at the parade of the York County Firemen's Association at Dallastown for the best appearing marching unit with music from out of the county. The $150 first prize brings total winnings of the firemen and band to $945.

Gettysburg had 46 marching men in the procession. Banner carriers headed the Gettysburg unit, followed by the band and the log cabin float owned by Dan Greenawald, Lincoln Logs. Mr. Greenawald drove the "jeep" which towed the float. On it Clyde Biddle, Gettysburg R. 5, impersonated Abraham Lincoln. David and Edwin Cole also rode on the float, dressed in Union and Confederate uniforms.

Suffer Fire Blowout
Real smoke poured out of the Lincoln Log Cabin chimney, with Robert Zhea inside "firing" the fire. Miss Doris Miller, drum major of the Blue and Gray, headed the band. The firemen were headed by the chiefs, carrying trumpets of flowers. Two Gettysburg fire trucks brought up the rear of the contingent.

The parade marched and then counter-marched past the judges. The Lincoln float made it the first time, but after passing the judges' stand "blew" a tire and was out of the parade on the second trip past the reviewers.

The firemen and the two trucks left the fire engine house at 12:30 p.m. in a downpour of rain, and it rained all the way to Dallastown. The rain stopped shortly before the parade got under way, however.

Firemen will make one more appearance this year before putting their uniforms in the mothballs until 1953. Arrangements have been made with the Blue and Gray Band to accompany the firemen to New Oxford on Labor Day to participate in the Adams County Firemen's Association parade. First prize for the best appearing company is $75. Fire Chief Donald G. Jacobs said.

LOCAL FIREMEN RESPOND TO 39 ALARMS IN '52

The Gettysburg Fire Department's record of fire calls and fire losses this year is thus far running behind the figures for 1951, according to the radio log at fire headquarters.

Gettysburg firemen have answered 39 alarms, compared with 43 up to August 18 a year ago. Figuring damage only within the territory of the Gettysburg Fire Department reportable by local authorities, losses this year have run less than $15,000.

Gettysburg firemen have assisted on several calls for barn fires, however, reported through other fire companies, which showed greater losses. One blaze at the Niblet farm at Sugartown recently had a reported loss of $15,000.

Two $3,000 Fires

Largest fire losses reported in the Gettysburg area were at the disposal plant on April 6 in which damage to a contractor's building and its equipment was estimated at $3,000, and at a refreshment stand on the Harrisburg Rd. June 29 with loss estimated at $3,300.

The first fire of the year was on January 7 when roofing paper in the basement of the new dormitory at the seminary, which was in process of construction, caught fire. The number of fire calls by months are as follows: January, 5; February, 7; March, 6; April, 8; May, 2; June, 6; July, 4. Only one call has been received thus far in August.

GUARD PRAISED BY GOVERNOR

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., (AP) — The guards opened up on the ranges, and the tanks began rolling today as the main phase of the annual encampment of the Pennsylvania National Guard got underway.

More than 6,000 ground and air troops took part in the initial maneuvers; the ground forces at the military reservation, the airmen at Spatz Field, Reading.

Guardsmen from all sections of the state assembled at the two posts over the week end for their two weeks of 1952 field training.

Philadelphia's 166th Field Artillery Battalion opened up on the small arms ranges. Units of the 112th Fighter Wing staged simulated gunnery missions in their F-51 Mustang fighters. Other guardsmen also went into action.

Praised By Governor
Gov. John S. Fine, commander-in-chief of the PNG, welcomed troops in a review at Muir Field yesterday. At his side was Lt. Gen. Frank A. Weber, state adjutant general, and commanding general of the guard.

"You are the outstanding and pre-eminent National Guard in the nation," Fine said.

"Pennsylvania owes a debt of gratitude to its national guardsmen who are willing to sacrifice their time and effort to keep this great state alive and vibrant," he added.

Plan To Drift Across Sea On Raft Atop Ping Pong Balls

MARSEILLE, France (AP) — A youthful Anglo-American expedition that plans to drift across the Mediterranean on a raft floated by 75,000 ping pong balls today lost two of its members.

What's more, a British girl, a member of the expedition, said she may quit, too. She is slim, brunette Muriel Grant, 20, of Hull, Yorks. She will decide tomorrow.

A week ago the group of three Americans and two Britishers set off down the Rhone from Lyon on the first leg of their adventure. Yesterday morning the raft, named the Ken Tooki, put out from a tiny Southern French port for Marseille 38 miles away. A stiff wind blew them out to sea. The raft put in near Marseille around 3 a. m. today.

Don Kindler, 26, of Jesses, Md., and Spanish-born Jose de Tejada 29, of Princeton, N. J., announced they had already had enough, and were dropping out.

Richard Miller, 26 of Chicago, Ill., organized the expedition. He said he still intended to go ahead. So does Michael Jones, a former RAF pilot of London. They found a young Frenchman, named Lari-viere, who said he would go, too. The expedition has only one objective goal: Study of each others' reactions in drifting across the Mediterranean, a trip expected to take six weeks. The youths got acquainted in Paris.

Typhoon Sweeps Across South Korean Peninsula; Heavy Rain

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — The center of a typhoon — with winds up to 100 miles an hour — hit Korea's West Coast today at Kusan, 80 miles south of Seoul, and roared on across this peninsula toward the Sea of Japan.

There was no report of damage but the ship — wrecking storm brought torrential rains to all of South Korea. Four to five inches of rain were predicted for the battlefront tonight.

In Pusan, on the southeastern tip of the peninsula, 3 1/2 inches of rain fell and wind gusts up to 75 miles an hour lashed the area.

A U. S. Air Force weather expert said winds of 50 to 60 miles an hour would whip high exposed places on the battlefront.

Stiff winds buffeted Seoul but the storm's main force moved about 25 miles south of the city. Power of the storm decreased as it passed overland.

The Air Force weather expert said it may pick up power when it hits the Sea of Japan and swerves toward Hokkaido, northernmost island of Japan.

Before sweeping inland, the typhoon wrecked one ship near Okinawa. A second ship is two days overdue after radioing it was in trouble.

American used an oil drum raft yesterday to rescue 40 of 43 passengers and crew aboard the Japanese motor vessel Tokushin Maru. The ship broke up on rocks near the island of Miyako, about 160 miles south of Okinawa. A woman and her two small children were lost.

Six American planes and a U. S. destroyer searched for the Czech ship Republika with 83 persons aboard. The vessel was reported in distress about 250 miles east of Shanghai.

An attempt to put the Lyn back into its course. More rains might spread the waters over a still larger area.

First estimates put the property damage in the whole flooded area at over seven million pounds (almost 20 million dollars).

The catastrophe's full force fell on Lymouth, a picture postcard little holiday resort which turned into a boulder-strewn shambles when cloudbursts Friday changed the placid little Lyn into a torrent boiling through the main street.

The flood damage here alone was estimated at more than two million pounds—over 5 1/2 million dollars. Twenty houses and 20 hotels had disappeared. At least 40 other houses were damaged.

Travelogue Film Is Shown Sunday

More than 200 persons saw a Burton Holmes travelogue film on historical New England States presented by the National Park Service Sunday evening in another of its summer series of Sunday night "campfire" programs.

Next Sunday night a movie on Pennsylvania oil industry, will be shown. The first part of the film, according to Dr. Frederick Tilberg, Gettysburg National Military Park historian, will be devoted to the discovery of oil and the first well, the Drake oil well, at Titusville.

35 ENTER MODEL PLANE CONTESTS HERE ON SUNDAY

More than 400 attended the first annual model airplane meet held Sunday at the Recreation Field by the Gettysburg Model Airplane Club.

Thirty-five entries zoomed and dove through the various contests to determine the winners of trophies presented by the club. The trophies were purchased from donations made by local organizations, business places and individuals.

Club officials described the meet as "very successful."

Despite "bumpy" air, the gleaming, motor-driven model airplanes went through their paces like the real airplanes they represent.

Best "spectator attraction" was the combat event in which Ralph Cypress, Baltimore, won first place, Frank Rody, of Carlisle, placed second and Paul Walter, Gettysburg, was third.

Hold Combat Event
For the combat event the contestants attached eight-foot streamers of crepe paper by two-foot lengths of string to their planes. Then the models, two by two, dove, stunted and zoomed with each contestant trying to cut the crepe paper streamer from his opponent's plane without having the streamer on his own plane severed. The winners were determined by the number of streamers cut by the contestants.

The stunting event was also a display of aerial skill as the contestants ran their planes through a wide variety of loop-the-loops, turns, banks, barrel-rolls and other tricks.

Norman Lawver, Baltimore, formerly of Biglerville, won first place.

PLAN ADDITION TO N. O. SCHOOL

The Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, pastor of Immaculate Conception Catholic Church, New Oxford, today announced that the Most Rev. George L. Leech, bishop of the Harrisburg diocese, had approved the erection of an addition to the parochial school in New Oxford to take care of the increased enrollment. Father Hartnett said that the present school building will be crowded to capacity for the next term.

The primary room is particularly crowded. In addition to the 33 youngsters who entered last year, 32 more beginners are expected when the new term begins September 2.

New Families In Area

New families moving into the outlying areas of the New Oxford parish are responsible for the great increase. The children living outside the town are transported to and from school by bus provided by the parish.

The New Oxford parochial school is taught by four Sisters of Mercy who have returned from their summer assignments. Additional Sisters are expected to be sent to

8 YUGOSLAVS SEEK ASYLUM AFTER GAMES

RUESSELSHEIM, Germany (P)—Eight husky young men from Yugoslavia's Olympic rowing team disclosed here today that they are not going to return to their Communist homeland even if Premier Marshal Tito does say his brand of communism isn't like Stalin's.

The team's manager, Slavko Slavko Jankovic, said he and seven others are asking asylum of the West and want to go to Canada.

Seeking refuge with him are six members of the Yugoslav eight-oar crew, and the stroke oar from the two-man squad with coxswain which competed at Helsinki.

"Life Difficult, Expensive"

"We hear that there are also four other Yugoslav rowers now in Bochum, Germany, who are not going back, but we are not sure about that," Jankovic said.

The other seven with Jankovic did not want to give their names because all had relatives and one had a wife in Yugoslavia. Their ages range from 21 to 36 years.

The rowers stopped here on their way from Helsinki to compete in a regatta on the Main River. Jankovic said they wanted to quit Yugoslavia for political reasons and also because "life there is difficult and expensive."

May Try Swiss

"Canada is a land where one can work and live in freedom and earn enough to live as an honorable man," he added.

Jankovic said they have already applied for asylum to German authorities, who told them "it might be difficult because Germany has friendly relations with Yugoslavia — but they said they thought it would go through all right," he added.

If they fail to win asylum in Germany Jankovic said they might try Switzerland. In any event, they want to remain in Europe only long enough to earn money and get permission to emigrate to Canada.

6TH GRASSLAND CONGRESS OPENS

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (P)—Two thousand delegates from 55 nations today were welcomed to the sixth International Grassland Congress by Gov. John S. Fine and Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower.

The week-long Congress, first since a 1949 session in the Netherlands, was called to promote worldwide improvement and conservation of grassland through exchange of new farming methods.

"This congress could provide higher levels of nutrition and, therefore, a better fed and more contented people," Fine told the first session.

"The mutual understanding engendered in a specialized congress, such as this, sets in motion continuing intellectual and cultural currents of significance far beyond its declared scientific and economic purpose," said Eisenhower, president of the Pennsylvania State College.

Also on hand to greet the delegates was Charles Brannan, U. S. Secretary of Agriculture.

About 200 technical papers will be presented at separate sessions of the Congress' 12 divisions.

"Reilly Raiders" Win Title Again

Only the week before the Philadelphia corps copped first prize in the state American Legion tournament in Philadelphia.

Iranian Premier Is "Much Improved"

TEHRAN, Iran (P)—Premier Mohammed Mossadeq, who has been running a high fever for the past couple of days, was reported "much improved" today.

An official source said the aged Premier had gone to the mountains to get away from the sweltering capital and that his physician son, Dr. Gohar Roshan Mossadeq, had ordered him to go to bed and see no one for the next five days.

Unconfirmed reports said Mossadeq has been considering naming a four-man council to carry on his duties while he is ill. Parliament has given the premier virtual dictator powers for the next six months.

One informant said Mossadeq was just worn out from the pressure of recent work and not seriously ill.

The shooting occurred in Hudson's cabin and it aroused occupants of the cabins, all of whom ran out on hearing the shots.

Chief Johnson said the gunmen had succeeded in tying Hudson to a bed when the manager's brother-in-law, George Lang, of Worcester, Mass., opened fire on the intruders. Lang surprised the brothers as they were trying to get Hudson to disclose the combination of the safe. Nine slugs were found in the walls and ceiling of the cabin.

COLUMBIA U. SLAYER SENT TO HOSPITAL

NEW YORK (P)—Bayard Peakes, the "eternal life" physicist who killed a pretty blonde secretary on the Columbia University campus, today was ordered confined as a lunatic.

General Sessions Judge Edward J. McCullen committed him to Matteawan State Hospital for the criminal insane, at Beacon, N. Y. Such action had been recommended by psychiatrists, who had found the 29-year-old Peakes so mentally deranged that he could not understand the murder charge against him, nor that he had done wrong.

May Be Tried Later

They said he was suffering from schizophrenia of a paranoid type. On last July 14, Peakes walked into the offices of the American Physical Society, on the Columbia campus, and shot to death 18-year-old Eileen Fahey—a girl he had never seen before.

He said afterward that he was angry with the Physical Society for not recognizing his theories on electronics and for prolonging life. He said he killed the girl to attract public attention.

Peakes was not in court when McCullen committed him.

The judge said that if Peakes should regain his sanity, he would be returned here to stand trial for his crime.

INDIANS GAIN ON YANKEES IN AMERICAN RACE

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Cleveland's Indians and New York's Yankees continued to apply the pressure on the league leaders but the spotlight was lifted off the pennant race and shifted to the two St. Louis clubs yesterday.

In the Mount City, rookie Stu Miller was deprived of a chance to join seven other rookies who have hurled a pair of shutouts in their first two major league starts when shortstop Solly Hemus made a double error in the ninth inning to let in the lone Cincinnati run in the Cardinals' 2-1 triumph. The Columbia grad had pitched a 1-0 shutout win over the Chicago Cubs in his first start last week.

In Detroit, the Tigers and Browns got a standoff in their big "waiver" swap of a week ago when Ned Garver pitched Detroit to a 4-2 victory over his old Browns mates after outfielder Vic Wertz had whipped his ex-Tiger mates with a two-run homer for a 4-2 St. Louis first game triumph. Wertz also homered and hit two singles in the second game.

Indians Gain On Yankees

Cleveland closed to within a game and a half of the American League leading New York Yankees, sweeping a pair from Chicago's White Sox, 6-2 and 2-1, while the Yankees were edging out the Red Sox in Boston, 3-2.

The New York Giants advanced half a game on Brooklyn in the National by splitting with the Boston Braves while Philadelphia's Phillies were shading the Dodgers, 2-1. Dave Koslo outpitched Warren Spahn, 4-2, in the nightcap after Braves had won the opener, 7-3.

Washington clung to fourth place in the American, dividing a pair with Philadelphia. Bob Porterfield won his 10th with a 7-2 first game triumph for the Nats but the Athletics overcame a 5-0 deficit to win the second, 12-5.

Kiner Gets 26th

Ralph Kiner helped Pittsburgh gain a split in the double bill with the Cubs, hitting his 26th homer of the year to lead the Pirates to a 5-2 nightcap win. That was the score of the Cubs' first-game triumph as Bob Rush helped win his 12th by driving in three runs.

Miller had a 2-0 lead with only one more out needed to register his second straight shutout. Cincinnati had runners on first and second when Roy McMillan hit an easy grounder to Hemus. The shortstop fumbled and then threw wild trying for a force play at second and Joe Adcock scored from second. The youngster then fanned Bob Borkowski to end the game.

Feller Gets 9th

Hemus was the Cards' big gun on attack. Twice he tripled and twice he scored, driven in by Red Schoendienst.

Cleveland got good pitching from Bob Feller and Mike Garcia in their double win. Each had won only one game in the last five weeks. It was No. 9 for Feller and No. 15 for Garcia. Harry Simpson's three-run homer settled the first game and Garcia's squeeze bunt provided the winning margin in the second.

Interstate

By The Associated Press

Lancaster and York are waging a modern version of the old "Battle of the Roses" with third place in the Interstate League being the prize of war.

Yesterday they split a doubleheader. Right hander Johnny Waltman gave the York White Roses a 7-2 decision in the opener. Doug Gostlin came back in the nightcap to win his 16th triumph, a 1-0 four-hitter, for the Red Roses.

Wendy Forbes' grand-slam home run helped the second place Allentown Cardinals move to four games behind the Hagerstown Braves as the league leaders bowed, 9-7.

Sunbury and Wilmington, two hard-luck teams for the past month swapped top pitching performances in a twin bill. Jim Kovarik won a 6-1 victory for Sunbury while Jack Meyer chalked up a 10-2 triumph for Wilmington.

The Salisbury Reds won their first game under new manager Dick Porter by pounding the cellar-dwelling Harrisburg Senators, 11-1. Porter replaced Mike Blazo in the Reds' pilot seat Saturday.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press

Batting: Vic Wertz, Browns — Slammed his 18th homer — his first for the Browns — with a man on base to help St. Louis defeat his ex-Detroit teammates, 4-2, in the opener of a doubleheader. He also homered, hit two singles, walked and scored both St. Louis runs in the second game which went to the Tigers, 4-2.

Pitching — Stu Miller, Cardinals — Only a double error by shortstop Solly Hemus with two out in the ninth prevented the rookie right-hander from pitching his second straight shutout in his first two major league starts. As it was, he settled for a 2-1 triumph over Cincinnati following his 1-0 debut victory over the Cubs last week.

STATE K. of P. Meet

BRADFORD, Pa. (P)—Some 400 delegates converged on this North-western Pennsylvania city today for the opening of the Knights of Pythias' annual three-day state convention. Presiding is Grand Chancellor Edward A. Stull of Leechburg.

George Washington was first inaugurated to the presidency in New York City on April 30, 1789.

WALCOTT AND MARCIANO TO FIGHT SEPT. 23

PHILADELPHIA (P)—A crown resting uneasy on his brow, ageless Jersey Joe Walcott will put his world heavyweight championship on the line here Sept. 23 against undefeated Rocky Marciano, a swarming, club-fisted puncher from Brockton, Mass.

This marks only the second time in more than a year that the 38-year-old Cinderella man of boxing from Camden, N. J., has ventured to place at stake the title he wrested from Ezzard Charles with a seventh-round knockout in Pittsburgh last year.

Walcott will get 40 per cent of the gate in a battle which will be televised only to theaters and blacked out even for cinema-viewers in Philadelphia and New England. Marciano gets 20 per cent. Jersey Joe has a 90-day clause assuring him of a return engagement if beaten and a 30-30 split of the gate.

Coach Yovicsin Will Open Bullet Grid Drills Sept. 1

Johnny Yovicsin begins his first season as head coach of the Orange and Blue Bullets of Gettysburg College on Monday, September 1, when 46 prospective candidates for the team report for drills.

The opening hour has been set for 9 o'clock in the morning at the Eddie Plank gymnasium where Dr. Joseph J. Baker will conduct the physical examination of each candidate. The first drill is scheduled for later in the morning, perhaps 10 o'clock, Yovicsin said.

"We will hold two sessions a day, morning and afternoon," the new head mentor said. "The men will be housed in one of the dormitories or one of the barracks near the gymnasium. They will eat their meals at the college cafeteria," he added.

Yovicsin declined to comment on this year's prospects. "We are starting out with 20 less men than we called last year," he said.

Book Night Scrimmage

Three practice scrimmage sessions have been scheduled. The Bullets will scrimmage West Chester Teachers, at West Chester, on the night of September 13 and a day scrimmage has been booked with Johns Hopkins, at Baltimore on September 20.

On September 17 Shippensburg State Teachers will come here and Coach Yovicsin said he hopes to schedule that as an informal night game on the high school field if arrangements can be made with high school authorities.

"I want to get these night sessions in because we open our regular season with the University of Delaware, at Wilmington, in a night game on September 27," Yovicsin said.

Another scrimmage session may be booked with the Indianantown Gap eleven here if a suitable date can be arranged.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

The trial of James Green, for the murder of Samuel Mars, near Bendersville, was postponed until November Court. A bill for "murder in the First Degree" was found against him by the Grand Inquest.

Married: On the 16th inst., by the Rev. J. Sechler, Mr. Levi Trostle, of Illinois (late of this county) to Miss Isabella Spangler, of this county.

One the 17th inst., at Conowago Chapel, by Rev. Mr. Enders, Mr. Peter Crosta, to Miss Ann Maria Myers — both of this place.

County Meeting: Pursuant to a call of the county committee a very large and enthusiastic meeting of the friends of Scott and Graham convened in the Court house on Monday evening. The enthusiasm that characterized the meeting furnishes a guarantee that the Whigs of the "Young Guard" are wide awake and will do their whole duty in the Campaign before them. The meeting was organized by the appointment of the following officers: President, John L. Guberman, Vice Presidents—Nathaniel Grayson, Joseph Kittinger, David Hollinger, Abel T. Wright, Silas M. Horner, John Houghtling, Jacob Diehl, Isaac Wolf, Jonathan C. Forrest, John McCleary, Ephraim D. Newman, John D. Becker, Daniel Minnigh.

Secretaries — Robert G. Harper, Jacob Aulbaugh, C. H. Buehler, J. F. Koehler.

The "Scott Glee Squad" of Gettysburg, entertained the meeting with several selections.

Hon. James Cooper, in response to the call of the meeting, spoke for an hour and a half, in a most eloquent manner.

Committee on Resolutions — R. G. McCreary, Maxwell Shields, Solomon Welty, David Beecher and John L. Sadler.

There were fifty-one deaths from dysentery, in Philadelphia, during week before last. The whole number of deaths was 250.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Local Miscellany: H. B. Danner, of this place, has been appointed a clerk in the Treasury Department at Washington.

The County Commissioners have appointed H. G. Geyer Assessor for Gettysburg to fill the vacancy occasioned by the removal of R. C. Cobean.

A Basket Picnic will be held in Francis Cunningham's grove, one mile from Moritz's and three miles from Fairfield, on Saturday, August 25. Refreshments on the ground.

The corner stone of the new Lutheran Church at Two Taverns was laid on Sunday with appropriate services, Rev. E. J. Metzler, Rev. Dr. Hay and Rev. S. Yingling participating.

The School Directors of York Springs borough have appointed the following teachers: High school, W. L. Delap, salary $40 per month; Primary, Miss Sallie Frey, of Gettysburg, salary $30 per month.

The Picnic last week at East Berlin, under the auspices of the Methodist Sunday School of this place, was a success. About 400 left Gettysburg, and on the grounds several hundred persons gathered in from the neighborhood. The day was cool and the excursionists had a delightful time.

A field of Fultz wheat, grown by Nicholas Codori on a 3 1/2 acre lot along the "love lane" within the borough limits, attracted a good deal of attention, as promising a large yield. We understand that it threshed out 40 bushels to the acre, by weight.

Married: Moser — Wattles. — On the 15th inst., by Rev. J. Frey, D. D., assisted by Rev. Dr. Steck, Rev. D. M. Moser, of Lockport, N. Y., to Miss M. Louisa, daughter of H. D. Wattles, of the place. Snafter — Keller. — On the 14th inst., by Rev. E. J. Metzler, John Shaffer, of Mount Pleasant Twp., to Elizabeth S. Keller, of Codorus Twp., York County.

SPRIT

Spirit in a person is something that is difficult to define, but people who have it are the leaders and the doers. A sporting writer, trying to put his finger on the success of a great baseball team, in terms of description, could think of nothing else than to say that it had spirit.

What is this spirit, anyway? We can only aim at what it is—that it is the do or die spirit. It's that element in the mind and heart that sets one apart from another, making him a leader. In a very large measure it's the spirit that is housed in one that creates what we success he enjoys.

When you break the spirit of a child, or a worker, you wound or kill the most valuable asset that is his. All the faith and confidence that one has is wrapped up within it. Nothing is more tragic than to break a person's spirit. You do something to him that may never be adequately created again. This spirit is one of the most delicate of qualities that any of us has. Break it and it is as though you removed a vital connection, like taking a spark plug from your car. Power is immediately lost.

All individuals, to a greater or less extent, have this spirit. So does a business organization, a club, a football or baseball team. It's that which lifts their morale and drives them to victories. Without it there is mere mediocrity. When a person loses his alive spirit he becomes a wanderer and an odd number.

People stop fighting when they lose their spirit. Genuine leaders help to create this spirit among those to whom they have been assigned for leadership. Great movements take place when a people's spirit is aroused. Without it, revolutions could never be consummated. Cities get this spirit, and everyone in that city is inspired and awakened to civic pride. It's a wonderful asset for either individual or group.

We are often asked to get into the spirit of a thing, that is, to put ourselves, thoughts, energy, and enthusiasm into it. Then something worth while is sure to be achieved.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Seek The Light." Protected, 1952 by The George Matthews Adams Service

Among points of interest visited, the trip included a tour of Hollywood and the Republic motion picture studios.

Six hundred and twenty-five roast chicken and ham suppers were served at the annual Sunday School picnic of St. John's Lutheran Church, held on Saturday evening in the grove adjoining the church. Refreshments were sold and a bazaar stand was conducted. Music was provided by the Littlestown High School Band.

Clyde L. Sterner, Bernard L. Warner, Mervin K. Myers and Donald L. Berwager served as ushers at the Sunday morning worship service in Christ Reformed Church. The sermon was presented by the pastor, the Rev. G. Howard Koons, and Fred A. Warner was organist for congregational singing. The bulletin was given by Mr. and Mrs. William S. Dutta. The altar flowers were gathered from the church flower gardens. The Sunday School superintendent thanked all those who helped in any way to make the annual picnic, held on August 2, a success. It was announced that jars are available at the church to be filled for donations to the Hoffman Orphanage and Homewood Church Home for the Aged, during the Harvest Home season.

ATTEMPT MADE ON KAISER'S LIFE BY SABOTAGE

TAHOE CITY, Calif. (AP) — Industrialist Henry J. Kaiser today accused unknown saboteurs who tampered with two speedboats who had entered in races here of "a murderous attempt on my life."

Damage to the powerboats was discovered a half hour before race time yesterday.

"I'm sure it was an attempt on my life, one of the most diabolical things I've ever seen," the 69-year-old steel - aluminum - automobile magnate declared.

Work Of Crank

Harry Johnson, Tahoe City constable called on the case, said the sabotage was crude and might be the work of a crank, or of Lake-side residents who have complained that Kaiser's boats are too noisy. A hunt for fingerprints was started.

The damage was discovered by Kaiser's mechanic and driver, Max Collins, after he noticed a hacksaw blade in the bottom of the 32-foot Gold Cup racer Hot Metal. The boat's main drive shaft had been sawed half way through and the carburetor blower had been stuffed with rags, nuts and bolts. The bilge and hull of a 24-foot runabout had been soaked with an estimated five gallons of gasoline, which could have ignited at the slightest spark.

Stayed In Race

The industrialist explained it was decided at the last minute that he would pilot the runabout and Collins the Hot Metal. It was widely known, he continued, that he was undecided whether to drive the Hot Metal, an experimental craft.

Kaiser was not deterred from racing. He finished second to shipping heir Stanley Dollar in the feature race, using a 16-foot boat he obtained.

"CLOSED" FRAUD CASE WILL GET HOUSE AIRING

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators, it was learned today, are digging into a case of alleged fraud that lay in the Justice Department about seven years and then was marked "closed" without being prosecuted.

Activities of a number of past officials of the department have been under scrutiny in connection with the case, which is expected to become the subject of public hearings on Capitol Hill soon.

Not Identified

The unexplained lack of prosecution in the case is one of several similar matters being studied by a House Judiciary subcommittee investigating the Justice Department.

Committee sources said the case first reached the department in 1944, and about a year ago was marked "closed" without either civil or criminal prosecution being initiated.

The House committee investigators did not identify the case—other than to say it related to a business firm—and said only that Justice Department officials were "primarily" involved.

City Dwellers In '50 Used Savings

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's city-dwelling families apparently had to borrow or dip into their savings to make both ends meet during 1950.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, in a preliminary report yesterday, said families living in cities and towns averaged a net income of $4,300 for 1950. But they spent $4,700, about 6 per cent more.

The report—which BLS experts cautioned is only preliminary and subject to adjustment—was based on a door-to-door survey in 91 cities and towns.

When the survey is completed, BLS will put out a new consumers price index—probably early next year. Since many labor contracts tie wages to the cost of living, this index is important to the nation's economy.

Federal Mediators Shift To Capital

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal mediators, unable to win union acceptance of their plan to end a strike threat against the New York Central Railroad's Eastern lines, are shifting their conciliation efforts to top-level company-union talks in Washington tomorrow.

William White, president of the railroad, and the chiefs of three of the four railroad brotherhoods involved have accepted the government request for the Washington meeting.

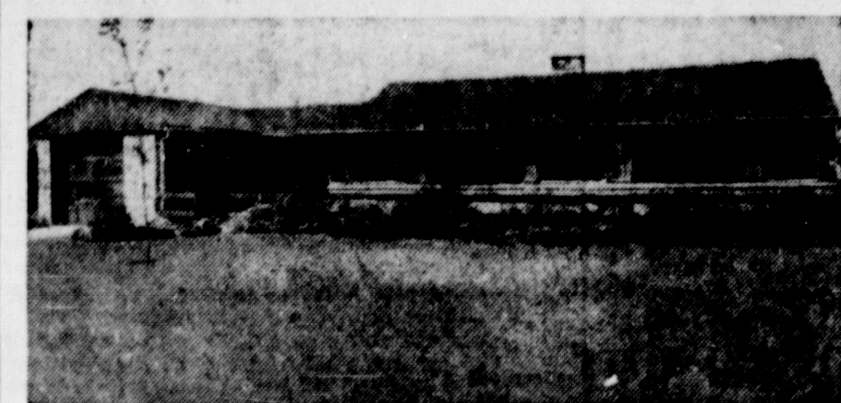

The mediators moved for tomorrow's conference shortly after the unions last night rejected the plan for settlement of the two-year-old dispute over 58 grievances. Announcement of the union rejection followed a company statement of acceptance.

Details of the government plan, presented as a package, were not disclosed.

The bagpipe is regarded as Asiatic in origin and is counted among the most ancient of musical instruments, says the National Geographic Society.

Crab Grass Control By Chemicals Now Possible

A Weedless Lawn Without Hard Work Is Now Possible

Crab grass, long the No. 1 summer pest of lawns, can now be controlled by chemical treatment. In infancy it is not easily distinguished in the lawn but in midsummer it ruins the appearance of lawns.

You may know crab grass as wire grass, water grass, or even quack grass, though the real quack is quite different. Crab grass is killed by frost, but starts from seed in early summer. In midsummer it becomes conspicuous for its coarse stems, difficult for the lawn mower to cut, and soon develops rusty red seed stalks which discolor the lawn, and drop seed for the next year's crop.

No effective and economical method of eradicating this pest was ever found, until chemical weed killers were developed, and it resisted the first one, 2,4D, which deals with most other lawn weeds. Considerable success has been had by those who use PMAS, the initials standing for the chemicals in the formulation, chiefly mercury. A more effective chemical, potassium cyanate, then was released, after tests by both government and state experiment stations.

Though PMAS is poisonous, potassium cyanate is harmless to animals, including pets and children, in spite of the resemblance of its name to the deadly potassium cyanide. It has been used for years by onion growers to kill weeds in their fields, among which crab grass was present. Since it killed crab grass along with the others, it was tried out for lawn use, and proved to kill both this pest and chickweed, without injuring the grass. Temporary yellowing of the grass may be noticed after an application, but it lasts only a few days, and the chemical breaks down into potash and nitrogen, both plant foods, so that growth may be stimulated by the application.

Two sprayings are recommended, the first when plants are first detected, the next before the plants which may escape the first treatment go to seed. Use a sprayer, to apply the solution in a mist which will coat the grass leaves. Follow directions accurately, and do not spray dry grass. Either water the lawn before spraying, or apply just after a rain.

Annual spraying may be necessary until your neighbors spray their lawns and the production of seed to be carried by the wind and by birds is ended.

If you have not sprayed your lawn with 2,4D this year, a combination of 2,4D with potassium cyanate will kill nearly all lawn weeds with one spraying. When you do this you may find many vacant places in your lawn, where the weeds formerly grew. An application of plant food to stimulate growth of the remaining grass will quickly cover these vacant places with fine lawn grasses. Instead of being the hardest work required for good lawn care, weed killing has become a simple matter of stroking around the yard, directing a lethal spray upon the other planting plans and preferences. Rhododendrons will not thrive on the east, south or west sides of the house unless they enjoy shade from some source. Therefore, the northern exposure is recommended, although some protection from prevailing winter winds may prove wise. Herein observation of where native specimens prefer to grow will indicate the wisdom of all-shade locations.

Many growers plant rhododendrons in early April. This, too, is a favorable planting time, although the plants demand considerable moisture during dry periods over their first summer. And also, this same requirement must be met when planting is done in late summer and dry weather follows.

Mulching with oak leaves is advised around the year. One of the better tests to indicate that the soil for rhododendrons is becoming too alkaline is seen in a yellowing of the leaves while the leaf veins remain green. Correction is possible through applying aluminum sulphate at the rate of one pound to a large plant, proportionately more or less according to age and size of the clumps. This should be worked lightly into the surface soil.

Frequent removal of faded flowers in season and prevention of seed pod formation will greatly prolong the flowering season.

Rhododendrons and lilacs should not be grown close together because they have a blight in common.

OUR DWINDLING DAIRY INDUSTRY

In a recent press release the United States Department of Agriculture announced that there were only 21,581,000 head of dairy cattle on American farms on June 1 this year, "the smallest number since June, 1928."

This serious statement received a 15-line space in most large city newspapers, and so far as the editor can discover, it failed to make the front page anywhere. In fact, as worded by the government official who wrote it, it is deliberately misleading. What are the facts about our dairy industry? What truths are camouflaged by this deceptive comparison with former records?

First, it is silly as well as evasive to compare livestock numbers or crop production with figures of former years without taking into consideration the total numbers of persons comprising our total populations on the respective dates. For example, in June 1928 our population was 119,860,000; this year it is approximately 156,000,000. Any person who seeks the truth in this matter or any government official who desires to tell the truth may do so only by comparing the number of cattle per capita of total population on these two dates. Any other figures are meaningless.

In 1928 there were on our farms 185 head of dairy cattle for every 1,000 persons of our total population. On June 1 this year there were only 138 head of dairy cattle per 1,000 of population. This is the lowest per capita figure ever reached.

But the full significance of this trend cannot be understood until it is measured in terms of dairy products.

Milk production has been declining rapidly since 1945. In that year our nation's cows produced 890 pounds of milk per capita of total population. Last year (1951) production dropped to 759 pounds. In the meantime, under the stimulation of lend-lease during the war and via our global philanthropy since, milk exports have been unprecedentedly high. Thus, our true picture of the dairy industry can be gained only by examining our domestic supply of milk — production minus exports.

Reducing all dairy products to whole milk, the figures are: In 1942 we had 868 pounds of milk remaining as our domestic supply per capita after deducting exports from production. Last year our domestic supply was only 741 pounds per capita. This, like the number of cows per capita, is by far the lowest average on record.

Reasons for this decline in cow numbers and milk production and consumption are, of course, smoke-screened in political controversy. But certain facts are inescapable.

In 1934 the government slaughtered over 6 million head of what was then called "surplus" cattle. Most of these were cows. It is unlikely that any livestock industry could overcome a holocaust of that proportion in less than three decades. Another penalty of the 1934 folly is reflected in our present beef cattle situation.

Too, butter and cheese prices "peaked" at inflationary levels by government bureaus have thrown economic wrenches into the entire dairy industry.

We need more dairy cattle. Americans should be drinking two to three times as much milk as we are now consuming in order to safe-guard our national health. To attain these vital goals we need above all a complete emancipation of our once-prosperous dairy business from the paralyzing effects of bureaucratic experimentation. Recovery cannot come by the methods which have led to our present dilemma.

LAWN BUILDING PRINCIPLES

In few other human activities is neglect of the time factor attended with more failure and greater penalties than in building and repairing lawns. Nature sows her grass seed in late summer and early fall; man foolishly tries to reverse this natural process and sown his grass seed in the spring. Of course, Nature succeeds. And as examples innumerable demonstrate, man rarely obtains a satisfactory stand of grass from his persistent error.

Too much emphasis is seldom placed on the importance of building new lawns and repairing tired old lawns in September. In fact, soil repairs should be started before the end of August so worked-over soil may have sufficient time to settle before seed is sown.

Consideration of this work logically leads to aims sought in starting or repairing a lawn. In other words, in addition to sowing seed at the wrong time of the year, what evils are to be corrected when soils are made ready for September seeding?

First, most lawn grass stands fail for lack of nourishment. Grass is cut every few weeks, raked and removed or caught by a canvas attachment fastened to the mower. Thus, plant foods are removed gradually but surely until the soil is run-down and depleted. At the same time it lacks organic matter to keep it mellow and capable of retaining moisture. Therefore, the major need in building a new lawn or repairing an old one is to replenish the soil's supply of organic matter to a depth of at least 8 to 10 inches. This provides a stratum to hold moisture in dry weather and serve as a medium of good drainage during wet periods.

Few kinds of grasses root deep-

And in attaining this end every potential grower may fully rule out the word "luck." Successful lawn growing is the fruit of compliance with a few simple but important rules. These are not complex or deeply scientific. And always the proper methods are the least expensive.

STARTING RHODODENDRONS

There is little or no "luck" in the successful growing of rhododendrons. Failures result from certain mistakes or conditions. Success comes to reward growers who avoid these errors and provide the plants with soils and sites conducive to vigor and general well being. Because late August and early September is the best time of the year to plant all evergreens, including the broad-leaved sorts, selection of locations, preparation of the soil, and planting methods are here briefly reviewed.

Native rhododendrons are invariably found growing in dense forests, usually in full or partial shade and where the soil is acid from decades of decaying tree leaves. Always, too, the location is well drained.

To succeed with this beautiful shrub in the otherwise unfriendly environments of the home grounds it is necessary to imitate these native conditions. First, of course, comes the question — How can the soil be made properly acid?

For small scale planting there is no better or less costly way to gain this end than to substitute acid woods loam for the present soil to a depth of at least 20 to 24 inches. This should be obtained from an old forest, preferably from where hardwood tree leaves have decayed. Fortunately, when such a soil is provided, no commercial plant foods will be needed at planting time.

To insure good drainage two factors are stressed. First, care is necessary to avoid an undrainable "pocket" when substituting the woods soil for the present soil. Second, the bed should be raised above the surrounding level to prevent alkaline rain water from flowing into the rooting soil.

Many beginners report failures which are traced to their efforts to hold planting costs down by moving native plants into the home grounds. In many years of experience with this shrub we have never known even one instance where success was attained from using native plants. Improved, well burlapped nursery plants are recommended.

Selection of the growing site permits no compromises with

LAWN GRASS FOR ALL SITES

Among widely prevalent causes of lawn grass failure the use of poorly adapted grass varieties is prominent. Numerous owners unwittingly sow the same varieties in dense shade that thrive in full sun or they expect a seed mixture suitable for a sandy loam to grow vigorously on a heavy clay. Particularly is the sun-and-shade problem difficult to solve.

For a generally sunny lawn an excellent mixture consists of 10 pounds of Kentucky bluegrass, 5 pounds of Chewings fescue, 2 pounds of reedtop, 1 to 2 pounds of colonial bent, and one pound of white clover if clover is desired. Where the soil is somewhat sandy in texture, the addition of rye grass and Rhode Island bent is advisable, reducing the Kentucky bluegrass by three pounds and adding equal parts of rye grass and Rhode Island bent to take its place.

Few regular lawn grasses will succeed in dense shade. Here a variety of grass that prefers shade should be used. One of the most satisfactory in this role is Poa trivialis, a woods grass. It may be mixed with bluegrass at the rate of one pound of bluegrass to 3 or four pounds of Poa trivialis. Many successful lawn owners add European red fescue or Chewings fescue in shade of buildings and beneath trees where the soil is sandy. Often one of the fescues will solve the shade problem fully.

Of course, if grass fails beneath trees because the trees rob the grass of needed moisture and plant foods, sowing shade-loving varieties will in no manner eliminate the trouble. Here one of two practices must be adopted: (1) Fertilize and water the grass sufficiently to overcome the tree competition; (2) Substitute Vinca minor, English ivy (Hedera helix), Euonymus, Pachysandra or one of the other hardy ground covers for grass. In using these vines it should not be overlooked that pruning to control density of the covering is practicable.

Usually the problem encountered on steep banks and terraces is not so much a matter of wise seed variety selection as it is to obtain a suitable stand of grass before the soil erodes. In most cases it is wiser to use sod than to attempt to grow a soil-holding turf. Of course, sod should be laid parallel with the slope and it should be well pegged to prevent slipping. Often seed may be sown on a fairly steep slope if the surface is later covered with burlap to prevent the "splashing" effects of rain until the grass is well started.

Sowing on a firm seed bed is an important practice in successful lawn building or repairs. This suggests that the soil should be

CHINA PREMIER IN MOSCOW FOR MAJOR TALKS

MOSCOW (U-P) — Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and Kremlin leaders prepared today for major talks aimed at tightening the military, economic and political ties of the Chinese-Soviet Communist partnership.

The Premier, who is also Red China's foreign minister, flew to Moscow yesterday from Peking with a big delegation that included his deputy premier, Chen Yung, and a sizable group of military experts.

The nature of the top-level discussions between the world's biggest Communist nations was kept secret.

Military And Economics

It was evident, however, that military questions would rank high among those taken up since Chou brought along the deputy chief of Peking's general staff, Su Yui; his Air Force commander, Lyu Ya-low; Deputy Navy Commander Lo Shun Chu, and Deputy Commander of Artillery Tsu Chuan.

Judging by others in the party, closer economic bonds will be sought also in the talks. Economic specialists with Chou included Minister of Heavy Industry Wan Hui-shou, Minister of Fuel Chen Yui, Deputy Minister of Communications Wang Cheng, Deputy Minister of Machine Building Wang Tachan and economic expert Li Fung.

On the political side were the head of the Asian department of the Peiping Foreign Ministry, Chen Chia-kan; the chief of the Soviet and Eastern Europe department, Hsui Yi-hsin, and the ministry's political secretary, Shih Chieh.

Many Likely Topics

It appeared certain the new talks will aim at expanding collaboration within the scope of the 1950 Soviet-Chinese Friendship and Mutual Aid Pact, the formal basis of the two countries' present close relationship. It is expected an attempt will be made also to broaden the pact and augment it with additional agreements.

The Chinese are almost certain to ask for an increase in their 300-million-dollar credit for the purchase of Russian industrial transport and agricultural equipment and for more Soviet technical aid. They will likely seek also expansion of Soviet-Chinese trade to counter the West's partial blockade of China.

Clauses of the 1950 agreement providing for Russia to return the Port Arthur naval base and Manchurian Railway to China are due for discussion since the agreements were to be implemented either when the Japanese peace was concluded or by the end of 1952, whichever was earlier.

It is thought here that a Chinese request for the return of the base and railway will bring a sympathetic Soviet response.

START SORTING CLAIMS OF VETS FOR KOREAN PAY

WASHINGTON (U-P) — Military experts said today it will take them a long time to determine how many Americans have been under fire in Korea.

They will soon start paying $45 to tens of thousands of veterans for every month in which they spent six days within range of enemy guns.

But the job of sorting out and deciding claims will involve a mountain of paper work and a long time lag, experts in both Congress and the Pentagon say.

Congress approved this special combat pay shortly before adjourning in early July. The payment is retroactive to the start of the Korean campaign for those qualifying.

At Least 25 Million

Pentagon officials estimate it will cost between 250 million and 300 million dollars.

The measure applies chiefly to infantryman of the Army and Marines. Sen. Moody (D-Mich.), the sponsor, said the main purpose is to give hazardous duty pay to men in the foxholes, thus putting them on equal footing in this respect with fliers, submariners and paratroopers.

Critics said the bill would discriminate against many combat veterans unable to meet its requirements.

Some experts say that a number of veterans who have seen bitter action might be ineligible. They say it is possible some infantry units might have been pulled from the line, badly chewed up, without serving the required six days during a hot month's campaign.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Card of Thanks 2

I wish to express my thanks to the nurses and the doctors for their being so good and kind to me through my operation and during my stay in the hospital.

Elmer Gaskley Jr.
Railroad St., Gettysburg

In Memoriam 3

In sad and loving remembrance of our darling baby, Thomas Joel Merry (Tommy), who departed this life one year today, August 18, 1951.

Just a line of sweet remembrance Of our dear Tommy, so sweet and small;
One so dearly loved by all.
There is a grave so far away That often makes us weep.
For underneath that grassy sod Our darling Tommy sleeps.
We wonder why you had to go, But only God in Heaven knows.
Often from our hearts comes a little cry,
"Why, oh why, did our darling die?"
Then comes an answer so solemn and deep,
"Tommy is not dead; he is only asleep."

Sadly missed by his parents,
Barbara and Bion E. Merry
Cherry Point, N. C.

IKE PLANS TO CAMPAIGN THRU DIXIE STATES

By The Associated Press

The presidential campaign took on a Southern accent today, with things popping in four Dixie States and the Republican nominee eyeing prospects in that Democratic stronghold.

At Jackson, Mississippi Democrats were pulling three ways as they gathered for a state convention. One faction backs Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson, the other is for GOP nominee Dwight Eisenhower and the third prefers a third-party Southerner to either.

Alabama, the first serious GOP threat since 1928 had Democratic Party leaders whooping it up for today's homecoming of Sen. John Sparkman, the Democratic nominee for vice president.

Face Suspension

In Arkansas, Democrats were told they could be suspended for two years if, after having voted in the Democratic primary, they support the GOP ticket at the polls on Nov. 4.

In Louisiana, Republicans organizing Eisenhower's state campaign ran into an upsurge of party strife. Still at odds were Eisenhower backers and supporters of Ohio's Sen. Robert Taft.

At a meeting in Alexandria Saturday, the Eisenhower people succeeded in placing their choice as Louisiana campaign manager but failed in a bid to seat new members on the state central committee.

At Denver, it was learned Eisenhower is arranging an unprecedented whirlwind invasion of perhaps a dozen major cities in at least seven Southern States. The plan is for the general to fly South

25th Reunion Of Shriver Family

About 75 attended the 25th annual Shriver reunion Sunday at Marsh Creek Heights, less than a quarter mile from the Shriver homestead where the first house was built in 1790 by Lewis Shriver. A gift was given Mrs. Harry Shriver and son, Harry Shriver Jr., of Newbern, N. C., as the persons who traveled farthest to attend the reunion.

Former officers were reelected for another year. They are: President, Ernest R. Shriver, Emmitsburg; vice president, Eugene Shriver, Phoenixville; secretary, Mrs. Raymond Reifsnider, Hanover, and treasurer, Mrs. Clyde Williams, Gettysburg.

from New York about Sept. 2 and zip through Dixie for two or 2½ days.

Lineup 100 Speakers

The Stevenson headquarters at Springfield, Ill., was also astir with speechmaking preparations. Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney of Oklahoma, chairman of the Democrats' speakers bureau, said a team of 100 orators will range country-wide.

Stevenson himself takes off today for a brief vacation. Indications were he would keep up with his chores as Illinois governor, when he returns, and still stay on campaign schedule. The official "kickoff" address by him will be at Detroit on Labor Day, coinciding with President Truman's initial campaign speech at Milwaukee.

A few days later, Stevenson's plans will take him stumping to the West Coast and possibly the Southwest, with a Southern junket a bit afterward.

MISERY BEING COOKED UP IN MOSCOW AGAIN

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 15-man Chinese government delegation has arrived in Moscow for talks with the Russians and undoubtedly wants help. It seems a safe guess they went there to cook up misery for someone.

The party was headed by Chou En-lai, Chinese Premier, and included military, economic and diplomatic leaders. China, not being militarily self-sufficient, needs Russian help if it wishes to pretend to real power.

The specific reason for the visit may leak out, piece by piece. Or it may not be revealed until the Communists, Chinese or Russian, begin some new adventure, such as was tried in Korea.

Can't Anger Them

While the Chinese need Russian help, the Russians need the Chinese. Particularly if they want to expand communism in Asia and at the same time keep the United States busy on two fronts: Europe and Asia.

Yet, if the Russians attempted to aid the Chinese militarily on a big scale, they'd be in a position somewhat similar to that of the United States: They'd be siphoning off supplies, as we do for our European allies.

The Russians can't afford to anger the Chinese. If the latter broke with Russia and made peace with the West, Moscow's world position would be badly shaken.

Not Yet A Threat

Such a break seems unlikely. The Chinese have their eyes on the rest of Asia. So long as Russia is a threat in the West, the strength of the West is split in two. So is its ability to stop the Chinese.

Yet, the Russians must have misgivings about the Chinese for the future unless they can find some way to reduce China to a puppet as they have done with Poland, Czechoslovakia and the other satellites.

With a population of about 350 million the Chinese now outnumber the Russians by about 130 million. But China is backward economically, militarily, and industrially.

It will be years before China can produce for war on the same scale as Russia. Until then China is not a full rival or threat to Russian survival.

Ex-Convict Seeks Highest U. S. Office

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Vincent W. Hallinan, Progressive party candidate just out of federal prison, today promised a presidential campaign to make the voters "grateful that we offer them an alternative to the two old parties."

Some 300 supporters greeted the wealthy San Francisco attorney at the airport on his return yesterday from McNeil Island, Wash., Federal Prison.

Hallinan, 55, had served nearly five months of a six-month contempt of court sentence. It was pronounced after his stormy defense of union leader Harry Bridges at a perjury-conspiracy trial involving Communist party membership.

Says Mme. Chiang Will Respond To Treatment

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A skin specialist said today it is "just a question of time" before Mme. Chiang Kai-shek's skin ailment responds to treatment.

Dr. Edwin L. Bruck of the University of California Medical Center examined the 54-year-old first lady of Nationalist China yesterday. He said the inflammation "may respond in four or five days or may take two or three weeks."

Mme. Chiang arrived late Saturday on a plane from Hawaii, where doctors had recommended she proceed to San Francisco for treatment of the ailment, believed caused by nerves.

Says Uniformed Voter Is Useless

MT. CARMEL, Pa. (AP)—The uniformed voter is as useless at the polls as the voter who stays home, Robert E. Woodside, State Attorney General, told a homecoming crowd at nearby Gordon, Schuylkill County.

In a speech at a picnic Saturday Woodside made a plea for better informed voters.

"Careful thought and discriminating selection must accompany the casting of the ballot. It is the duty of every citizen to not only vote but to vote intelligently," he declared.

FOUR KILLED IN

A third northbound car piled into the wreckage. The impact scattered contents of the cars, amid debris and it took officials hours to make identifications.

In Westminster, Andrew Dietrich, manager of the Coffman-Fisher Company, said his wife and son had made a trip to Boston with the Schneider couple to visit Mr. Schneider's parents and were returning to Maryland.

In addition to her husband and son, Mrs. Dietrich is survived by her mother, Mrs. Sally Bounds, Salisbury, and two brothers, Aubrey, Salisbury, and Brice, Lexington, Va. She was a member of Grace Lutheran Church and a resident of Westminster for nearly 17 years.

Dietrich and Brice Bounds left by train Saturday morning for Harrisburg.

L. L. Dietrich and his son, Lloyd Jr., are on a vacation trip to Canada. They left here Thursday.

HELD IN YOUTH'S FATAL SHOOTING

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—A 32-year-old Ohioan was held on an open charge here today in connection with the slaying of a Little League baseball fan during a forced midnight automobile ride.

Cpl. Leo J. Armbruster of the state police said Irvin Paul Goff, Akron, Ohio, would be charged later in the day with the fatal shooting of Raymond Smith, 19, Monongahela.

Smith and two companions were visiting Williamsport to attend the state finals of the Little League baseball tournament Saturday in which Monongahela defeated Hickory, 6-1.

Armbruster said Goff robbed the trio of $16 in a parking lot behind their hotel and then forced them to take him for a long ride in their car. During the ride, Goff suddenly fired a bullet into the neck of Smith, the driver, Armbruster said.

The two friends, Herbert Hixenbaugh and Franklin Simmen, both 19 of Monongahela, said they could give no reason for the sudden impulse to shoot. They caught the attention of the state police by blinking the auto lights and Goff surrendered peacefully.

Dr. Clarence R. Martin, Lycoming coroner, said death was caused by the bullet severing the spinal cord.

Protect Beans From Weevils

Every farmer and gardener who stores dry beans for winter as seed or for home consumption or sale, should write the editor at once for details for fumigating beans to eradicate weevil dangers. Please enclose a stamped, addressed envelope. Weevils take a heavy and unnecessary toll of stored beans every winter. A few cents invested in fumigation before storing will return many dollars in beans saved. All related questions invited.

"All my life I've wanted to own a Buick"

Power Steering now available on Super as well as Roadmaster—optional at extra cost.

It seems that owning a Buick is something that a lot of folks dream about—plan for—and finally do.

We say that because, so many times, they say so in words like those above.

Those words make us happy, of course—happy to know we sell a car which means so much to those who own it.

But they make us feel just a little bit sad as well—sad to realize all the years of fun such folks have been missing for no good reason at all.

For the fact is this:
If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick.

You can afford the thrill of bossing around that big Fireball 8 Engine that purrs forth a mighty flow of power.

You can afford the gas bills—as any owner of a 1952 Buick will tell you—because that high-compression, valve-in-head marvel gets a lot of miles from a gallon of fuel.

You can afford the extra luxury of a real million dollar ride—the silken smoothness of Dynaflo Drive*—the extra room and comfort and style that have put Buick popularity right up at the top of the list, next to the "low-priced three."

So if you want to own a Buick—there's just one thing to do:

Come in—pick the one of your choice—and let us show you how close the figure that goes on the bill of sale comes to what you'd pay elsewhere.

As we've said before, your first car can be a Buick. Why not take the Big Step right away—today?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Sure is true for '52
